Admission: in order of enrolment

Enrolment: from 15th January to 26th February via email to jbaldoni@units.it

This course is designed to help tenured teaching staff enhance their speaking skills in English. Participants will be introduced to the phonological features of the English language and provided with the tools to develop an awareness of how English pronunciation works. A wide range of activities will provide opportunities for speaking and conversation – both formal and informal. Individual feedback throughout the course will be provided meaningfully to help reduce fossilized errors and enhance effective communication in English

Participants will be granted a statement of attendance upon completion of 70% of the course
